

For Immediate Release – June 8, 2023

Brookings' first BottleDrop bag drop location opens Customers can now return Green and Blue Bags at Fred Meyer

Brookings, Ore.—Recycling Oregon's 10-cent redeemable beverage containers just got much easier for area residents and nonprofits in Brookings, thanks to the arrival of a BottleDrop Green and Blue Bag drop location at Fred Meyer, located at 325 5th Street.

The new BottleDrop bag drop location officially opens to the public on Thursday, June 8, becoming Brookings' first Green and Blue Bag drop location, and the 100th drop location to open across the state of Oregon.

"I have strongly advocated for the bag drop program to be expanded along the south coast," said State Senator David Brock Smith. "With the Coos Bay BottleDrop Redemption Center opening in December, and this bag drop location now opening in Brookings, consumer convenience is taking a huge leap forward."

Through the Green and Blue Bag programs, individuals (via Green Bags) and nonprofits (via Blue Bags) can conveniently redeem containers in bulk, placing redeemable metal, plastic, and glass beverage containers all in the same bags and dropping them off at any BottleDrop bag drop location in Oregon, instead of redeeming them one container at a time. Customers place unique QR code bag tag stickers onto their bags, which associate the contents of those bags with the customer's BottleDrop account. Bags are counted and credited to customer accounts within seven days - often more quickly.

"Expanding bag drop access to coastal communities has been a major priority for the BottleDrop network," said Eric Chambers, vice president of strategy and outreach at the Oregon Beverage Recycling Cooperative. "This is the first drop door south of North Bend, and we're thrilled to make container redemption more convenient than ever for area residents."

Consumer convenience has sparked rapid growth in the program. Last year, over 927,000 BottleDrop account holders dropped off more than 11.4 million Green and Blue Bags in Oregon.

New customers can sign up for a BottleDrop account online, through the mobile app (search for "BottleDrop Account" in the App Store or on Google Play), or through the BottleDrop kiosk located at any bag drop location (including inside Fred Meyer). Green Bags are also now available for purchase at Fred Meyer (and at all bag drop locations), and customers can print their bag tag stickers at the store's BottleDrop kiosk as well.

“At Fred Meyer, we are dedicated to reaching Zero Hunger Zero Waste in our communities and are excited to offer this new, convenient container return option,” said Tiffany Sanders, Corporate Affairs Manager at Fred Meyer. “Partnering with OBRC to offer this bag drop in Brookings provides another opportunity reduce waste in our community.”

Area nonprofits and their supporters can also participate, supercharging their bottle and can fundraising drives through the Blue Bag Program. The Blue Bag program allows nonprofits to set up fundraising accounts with BottleDrop and distribute Blue Bags to their supporters. Just like the Green Bag program, fundraisers are given unique bag tag QR code stickers to place on their bags, which ensure that the funds from those containers are credited to the nonprofit's BottleDrop account.

BottleDrop is operated by OBRC, which introduced the bulk Green and Blue Bag redemption program in Oregon in 2010, as a convenient and efficient bottle and can recycling option. The program has grown each year since, with nearly 1 million BottleDrop account holders and over 5,500 Oregon nonprofits currently participating in the program. Fred Meyer in Brookings is the 100th bag drop location in BottleDrop's statewide network.

How does BottleDrop's Green Bag system work?

BottleDrop account holders purchase designated bags for a small fee and print bag tag stickers with QR codes linking their bags to their accounts at the kiosks located on site at all bag drop locations. Customers then fill the bags with redeemable bottles and cans and drop them off at any BottleDrop location statewide. BottleDrop will count the containers and credit the account within seven days. There are a number of convenient ways account holders can spend their redemption funds:

- Withdraw them for cash at Fred Meyer or at any BottleDrop kiosk;
- Withdraw them for store credit at Fred Meyer and “push Plus” to receive an additional 20% added to the value.
- Save for education by linking their BottleDrop Account with an Oregon College Savings Plan Account; or,
- Donate to a charity of their choice through BottleDrop Give.

About BottleDrop and the Oregon Beverage Recycling Cooperative

The Oregon Beverage Recycling Cooperative (OBRC) is the industry steward of Oregon's nationally recognized beverage container redemption system and the operator of the BottleDrop network. Headquartered in Clackamas, Ore., OBRC is a statewide, not-for-profit cooperative, formed by beverage distributors to operate Oregon's renowned Bottle Bill program. OBRC helps keep Oregon beautiful by providing outstanding services to partners, distributors, retailers and the public for the recovery, reuse and recycling of beverage containers. Through OBRC's BottleDrop Redemption Centers and container pickup service for more than 2,000 retail partners, the co-op recycles around two billion beverage containers annually, protecting the Oregon we love, supporting the causes we cherish, and inspiring innovation beyond our borders, to create a world where no resource is wasted – all without a penny of state funding. To learn more, visit BottleDrop.com or OBRC.com.

###

In this folder, you will find b-roll and visual assets from BottleDrop.